

First Nations Health Authority
Health through wellness

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

Senior Analyst, Strategic Policy

West Vancouver, BC (Term until October 2022)

The First Nations Health Authority is a diverse and transformational health organization of professional, innovative and dedicated team members and leaders. The first of its kind in Canada, FNHA works as a health-and-wellness partner with BC First Nations to support self-determination and decision-making to improve health outcomes.

In this role, the Senior Policy Analyst will undertake policy development, analysis, planning, and research in areas aligned with the FNHA's Multi-Year Health Plan. This will include the development of reports, presentations, plans and other presentations and publications. The role will provide direct support to management and may be asked to undertake the oversight of project teams and budgets as appropriate.

Effectively working across the Policy, Planning & Quality team, this role will take guidance and direction from various Directors and managers on different aspects of the position, and work to help initiate, maintain, and develop strong and effective working relationships with colleagues, First Nations communities, the First Nations Health Council and First Nations Health Directors Association, health service partners and organizations, and with federal, provincial and external health system partners and stakeholders.

If you are looking for a new growth opportunity to make a difference in health outcomes of First Nations communities, we would love to hear from you!

Education & Experience

- University Degree in a related field such as health policy, public policy, health systems management, political or social science or an equivalent combination of education and experience
- Recent, relevant, and progressive experience in policy development and analysis (usually acquired over a period of 5-7 years)
- Experience in working with First Nations and First Nations health programs and services

What you can expect from us?

Joining our family means joining an organization that supports personal and professional growth as well as the opportunity for you to gain exposure in the First Nations Health Care industry.

Start with us, and you might wind up in unexpected places. Many of our staff throughout the organization have started in one of our coveted student positions. Now is your chance to move your career in a new direction! If you want to make a difference and have the opportunity to contribute to BC's history, then come join FNHA!

For more position
details and information about us, please visit www.fnha.ca

501 - 100 Park Royal South
Coast Salish Territory
West Vancouver, BC
Canada V7T 1A2

FIND PURPOSE BEYOND YOUR PROFESSION

At FNHA, you'll have the opportunity to contribute to BC's history. With a unique governing structure and mandate, our fluid work environment means you can play an active role in real change.

Our talented teams value respect and foster lateral kindness in their working relationships. Our holistic approach to wellness, based on First Nations teachings, is incorporated into all aspects of work culture. Where else will you get to create a personal wellness plan as part of your performance goals?

If you are looking for more than a job, come join the FNHA family.

Apply Online!

www.fnha.ca/about/work-with-us

Confidential Fax: (604) 913-6135

Please include "Self-Identified", if you are voluntarily identifying yourself as First Nations or Aboriginal.

The First Nations Health Authority is a diverse and transformational health organization of professional, innovative and dedicated team members and leaders.

The first of its kind in Canada, FNHA works as a health-and-wellness partner with BC First Nations to support self-determination and decision-making to improve health outcomes.

